Pegasus Spiele

Firenze

Florence during the Renaissance. Its powerful families try to out rival one another, not only on the battlefield, but also by erecting especially splendid towers. In this game, players take on the role of architects trying to complete the families' towers contracts. The player who manages to best achieve this aim is going to win.

The game is designed by Andreas Steding, most recently successful with Hansa Teutonica. The artwork is provided by well-known Michael Menzel.

Firenze won second place in 2008's Hippodice game author contest (titled „Die Architekten von Florenz“). Firenze is the Italian name of Florence.
